

BMW – Mini – Rolls-Royce

You must hold an EV certificate to access AOS, regardless if the car is high voltage or not.

Record organisation data 1

General organisation data

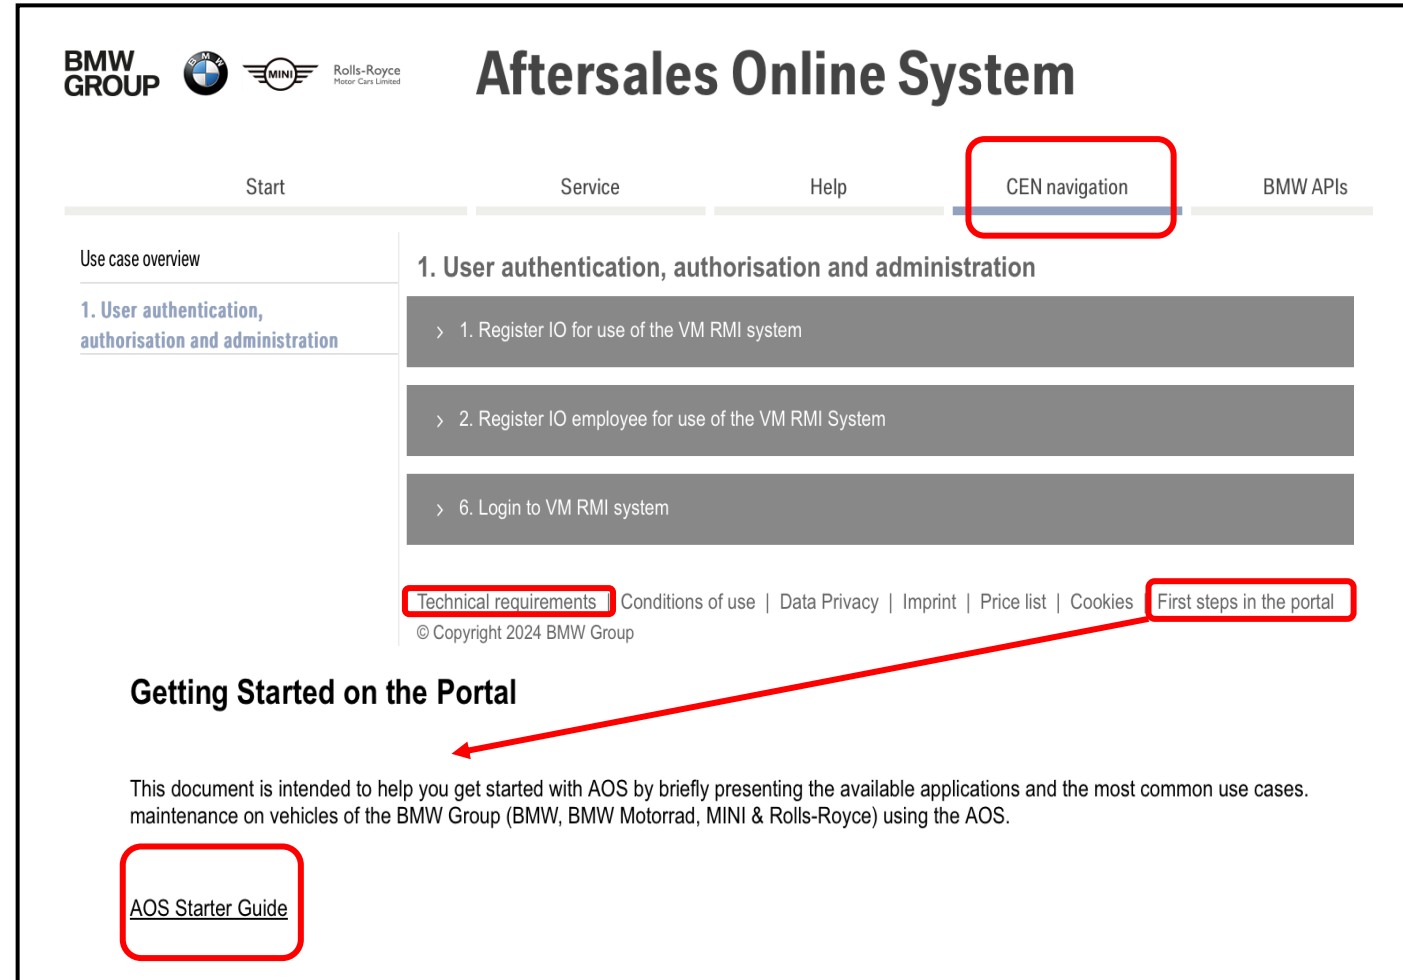

User group * Other (please justify your request) ▾

Country/region * Australia ▾

User Group select OTHER

Country = Australia

1. Register
2. See Technical requirements
3. See AOS Starter Guide

The screenshot shows the AOS interface with the following elements:

- Logos for BMW GROUP, MINI, and Rolls-Royce Motor Cars Limited.
- Page title: Aftersales Online System
- Navigation menu: Start, Service, Help, CEN navigation (highlighted with a red box), BMW APIs.
- Use case overview section:
 - 1. User authentication, authorisation and administration (highlighted with a red box)
 - > 1. Register IO for use of the VM RMI system
 - > 2. Register IO employee for use of the VM RMI System
 - > 6. Login to VM RMI system

Footer links: Technical requirements (highlighted with a red box), Conditions of use | Data Privacy | Imprint | Price list | Cookies | First steps in the portal (highlighted with a red box). © Copyright 2024 BMW Group.

Getting Started on the Portal

This document is intended to help you get started with AOS by briefly presenting the available applications and the most common use cases. maintenance on vehicles of the BMW Group (BMW, BMW Motorrad, MINI & Rolls-Royce) using the AOS.

AOS Starter Guide (highlighted with a red box)

TIP: You will be required to upload your drivers license, trade and EV certificate.